Tax Ratio Change Tops Talks

By BETTY JEAN CLAY Sun Staff Writer

Final approval was given by Corsicana City Commission Tuesday to establishment of the 1972 tax rate at 78 cents on the $100 valuation, a reduction from $1.25 since the city decreed last year it would begin using 100 per cent of actual value for assessment purposes this year.

Both methods yield approximately the same total amount of taxes, with 1972 taxes slightly less in the actual calculation.

Letters will go out to all property owners from the Tax Office explaining that ad valorem property taxes are not being increased, only calculated differently than when an assessment ratio of 62½ per cent was used.

With only three members present, Mayor Sue Youngblood and Commissioners John Carlock and Bob Scott, constituting a quorum, it was necessary to defer final action on two matters. These were an ordinance that would have allowed Lone Star Gas Co. a 2.52 commercial rates, and an ordinance

Mayor Youngblood would have abstained, as she did May 3 when the gas rate ordinance received preliminary approval, because her son works for the utility. In the annexation, Commissioner Scott would have abstained again because of his interest in the subdivision, if there had been another Commissioner present to make the necessary second.

With no problem attendant to other voting, the Commission gave final approval to ordinances adopting "A Guide to Development in Corsicana" and adoption of "Specifications for Installation of Public Facilities" which spell out detailed regulations covering sub-division construction.

One of five zoning change applications was denied, one was approved conditionally and three approved as presented.

Commissioners denied application of James A. Thompson for change from Residential 3 to General Retail district with a specific use permit for a small engine repair shop at 1405 W. 10th Ave. Building Official Delma Ware explained that Thompson had asked only for a change to General Retail district since he already operates a small engine shop property. However, Ware said, in period. considering the application the Planning and Zoning Commission recommended that the City also issue a specific use from a May 3, 1972, science trip to the permit to further limit Thompson's use Houston-Galveston area sponsored by just for the shop, although this was not Corsicana High School. The trip was in a provided for in the comprehensive school-owned bus and students were zoning ordinance.

Ware added that if Thompson weren't granted a change to General Retail district he couldn't expand his operation or hire workers, but if no action were taken, he wouldn't be denied the right to continue his one-man operation as a noncontinue his one-man operation as a nonconforming use.

Approved as requested by the owners and recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission were ordinances changing zoning for Annie L.W. Dill at 520 W. 1st Ave. from Multiple Family 1 to General Retail district; for James and Norma Holcomb changing zoning from Industrial 1 to Planned Development Fire Engineers, Inc., alleging that the district on Lot 8, Block 1017, N. Hwy 75 defendant firm has "been holding itself near Hogle Airport, and further granting—out to the public as being engaged in the them a specific use permit to local four practice of engineering under the name mobile homes on the property. Also Fire Engineers, Inc.", and that no approved was an ordinance granting to member of this firm is registered to so Erwin-Beasley Co. a specific use permit practice the profession of engineering allowing mobile home sales in General within the State of Texas as required by Retail district on Lots 5 and 6, Block 580 and all of Block 581, located in the 1700 block of W. 7th Ave.

Approved conditionally was a request by Edward W. Pollard for a specific use permit to operate a private school at 1506 Cherry in a Residential 3 district. Ware reported that two persons had raised the objection at the Planning and Zoning Commission public hearing that the already heavy traffic borne by nearby N. 24th St. would be hazardous to the safety of children attending the school. and the school would add to the congestion.

On being informed that Pollard proposes to erect a "high wooden fence" around his property for screening and to prevent kindergarten children from getting out to the street, the Commission approved the change subject to Police Chief Don Massey's investigating and making a determination that the school's fencing wouldn't create a blind corner or a new hazard to traffic.

Mayor Youngblood appointed Harold Prater to a three-year term on the Housing Standards Board to replace Ken Johnston, who advised the city he did not wish to be reappointed. The appointment was promptly confirmed by Commissioners Scott and Carlock.

Foundation Authorizes 165-Acre Park

By BETTY JEAN CLAY Sun Staff Writer

Directors authorized the Corsicana Industrial Foundation Thursday to purchase approximately 165 acres of land for a new industrial park development.

At the same time, the board in special session Thursday morning at the Chamber of Commerce authorized the creation of a steering committee to handle financing of the land's purchase and improvements.

President Embry Ferguson was directed to have the Foundation's attorney verify whether problems attendant to existing oil wells and leases on the property can be worked out satisfactorily and to notify owners of the several tracts that comprise the overall 165 acres the Foundation wants to close the deal in 30 days if possible.

It is envisioned by the Foundation that it will seek to raise funds to make possible the land's purchase with a public subscription campaign similar to the way the Foundation originally was funded in 1956 when it was established as a non-profit corporation.

President Ferguson immediately appointed to the financial steering committee W. D. Wyatt, Charles Hooser, Zane Stites, J. M. Dyer, John Corley, Wiley Pennell, Gerry Rogers, Louis Wolens, Dr. Louis Gibson and Herb Silverberg. Ferguson also will serve on the panel.

The Foundation already has an option on a major portion of the land under consideration and tentatively negotiated a buying price for contiguous land that would complete the approximately 165acre package.

While the Foundation is not prepared to reveal the specific location of the land at this time, it is accessible to Interstate 45 and served by rail line.

President Ferguson reported to the board that Robert Caldwell and Associates of Bryan, hired earlier by the Foundation to survey the acreage and make a layout envisioning development of an industrial park, recommends its acquisition and development as one of the best potential locations available to give Corsicana the "prestigious" type locations industries now are seeking.

Board members acknowledged that presently the Foundation doesn't own any land that would come in the "prestigious" category and it must move in that direction to remain competitive with other cities which do have.

The father of a Corsicana High School senior student suspended from school and denied credit for classwork turned in after the suspension period has filed a petition in the office of the 13th District Clerk Tuesday afternoon asking for a temporary injunction against the school

Dr. Lester E. McGary filed the petition for his minor son, Richard McGary. Defendants in the case are members of the board of trustees of Corsicana Independent School District— Hugh Fullerton, Fred Kesinger, Mrs. Tom Bunch, Dr. James Price, Maco Stewart, Albert Sanders, and Raymond Hampel. Defendants have been ordered to appear in 13th District Court for a hearing Friday at 10 a.m.

The petition asks that the court set a hearing for a temporary injunction prior to May 23, 1972, since that is the final exam period.

The plaintiff asks that the School Board be permanently enjoined from enforcing a rule which would authorize a teacher to refuse to accept school work as a "home occupation" and this zoning which was assigned during a suspension would give sanctity to this use of the period but delivered after the suspension chaperoned by two or more high school teachers. During the trip, it was alleged that Richard McGary was in possession of "a bottle of wine." As a result, he was suspended from class at Corsicana High School for the days of Monday and Tuesday, May 8 and 9, 1972. The petition further alleges that no other students were punished in this regard, "although several students were involved."

It notes that the principal of Corsicana High School asked students to file a report or theme in English class Wednesday, May 10, and that the McGary youth presented such a theme or report to his English instructor, Mrs. Anderson. It further alleges that the teacher refused to accept the theme and gave him a "zero" for the day of Wednesday, May 10, 1972.

The request for temporary restraining order says the McGary student, through his father, requested that the school superintendent, the principal, assistant principal, the school teacher involved, and members of the school board, produce any rule which would authorize a teacher to refuse to accept the school work in question.

The petition alleges that Lester E. McGary was not accorded a public hearing when he appeared before the board of trustees of the Corsicana Independent School District at its regular meeting Monday night. It states that the board requested that the press leave the room while board members listened to Lester E. McGary and made a ruling in favor of the teacher who refused to accept the youth's school work. The board's ruling, according to the petition, evidently indicates that the teacher should have a right to make or interpret rules as she sees fit, "all of which would mean that all students would not and could not be afforded the same treat-

It further notes that "the action by the school board in disallowing a public hearing and holding a closed hearing is contrary to the laws of the State of

"As a result of the ruling of Mrs. Anderson," the petition says, "this defendant's English grade is now in jeopardy, which might even prevent him from graduating from Corsicana High School. This plaintiff requests that the school board be enjoined from carrying out such a rule."

By SAM PENDERGRAST Editor of The Sun

It was a small and informal but significant affair for one of Corsicana's most active new groups Tuesday afternoon as Mrs. Jay (Tubby) Adkisson presented the brand-new Traveling Membership Achievement Plaque of the Texas Association for Retarded Children to Mrs. Warner Redus, membership chairwoman of the Navarro County Association for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Adkisson, regional director of the TARC and mainstay of the Greenville chapter, praised the NCARC' for its unprecedented membership growth by 147 per cent during the year and for its implementation of a vigorous, surprisingly comprehensive development program housed in "temporary" quarters in the basement of Medical Arts Clinic. At the same time, NCARC President Mrs. Nolen Dockery presented commemorative gifts to Mrs. Grady Barnes, retiring volunteer in the development center, and the Rev. Fr. Dennis Smart, active participant in the ARC leaving his post at St. John's Episcopal Church here for a new assignment at St. Mark's in Arlington.

Barnes accepted for his wife, who was not present. Citing quotations from Helen Keller the marvelous work going on here (with Hull.

and Dr. Jonas Salk about the joys of helping others, Mrs. Adkisson noted that the TARC has never made it a practice to recognize individual chapter efforts in such a manner, but the state leadership was so impressed with the NCARC performance it was felt the traveling trophy should be originated to encourage other chapters.

The plaque itself will go to the Texas chapter with the greatest membership gains next year, and a certificate will remain with the NCARC. Mrs. Dockery observed that every effort will be made to retire the plaque here by filling in all 12 plates for annual recognition.

'I am neither a parent of a retarded child nor a professional in the field," Mrs. Adkisson remarked, "but I am happy to see so many of your own members directly involved in those ways. I can only say my association with the ARC has been the happiest thing of my life, and I would ask you to remember that there are many people in your own community who would like to work with you in this great program...".

Rev. Fr. Smart, in accepting a monogrammed briefcase from the NCARC, said it is a sad experience for him and his family to leave so many friends as they go to the new assignment in Arlington. "But we know that with all the NCARC) and in so many other areas, there are great things in Corsicana's future," he added. The event was not unalloyed with bad news, though. Mrs. Dockery praised and thanked participants in the recent area "Special Olympics" at Tiger Field but noted that area students will not be able to attend the State "Special Olympics" later this month because school buses on which they were depending for transportation are not available.

She did say there are high hopes for raising significant funds for the operation of the Child Development Center at the Pancake Supper being planned for Saturday under the sponsorship of Minyard's Supermarket. And Mrs. Adkisson urged the local ARC to send a voting delegate and as many observers as possible to participate in the state convention of the TARC July 7-9 in Austin, when she said the top priority will be to formulate new goals for the organization whose membership has grown so much that a number of new regions have been designated to give better contact with local groups.

Others in attendance at the luncheon meeting were Mary Elizabeth Crespo, Jean Harper, Minnie Beth Kent, Kay Andrews, Roseann Farley and David

AustinJudge To Preside

A visiting judge, Charles D. Mathews of the 200th Judicial District Court in Austin will preside in 13th District Court at 10 a.m. Friday at a hearing concerning the recount of votes cast in the May 6 Democratic primary race between Donald Nicholson and Judge James C. Sewell.

Nicholson filed the suit Monday against John K. Beck, Democratic County Canvassing Board Chairman. In court Friday, Beck is ordered to appear and show cause, if he has any, why the temporary restraining order should not be continued as a temporary injunction pending the suit. Donaldson's suit filed as a restraining order was issued "because of the failure of the application for recount filed by Judge James C. Sewell to comply with the terms of Article 9.38 (a) of the Election Code, specifically for failing to list the names and addresses of each precinct election judge."

The petition for temporary restraining order against Beck was filed before a neutral court, the 68th District Court in Dallas County. Judge Owen Giles signed the order which noted that "there is danger that irreparable injury will result to this petitioner unless this restraining order is issued immediately without notice."

Nicholson upset 16-year incumbent Sewell by a vote of 4,524 to 4,327.

Talking About Social Security

By DAVID M. HELMER

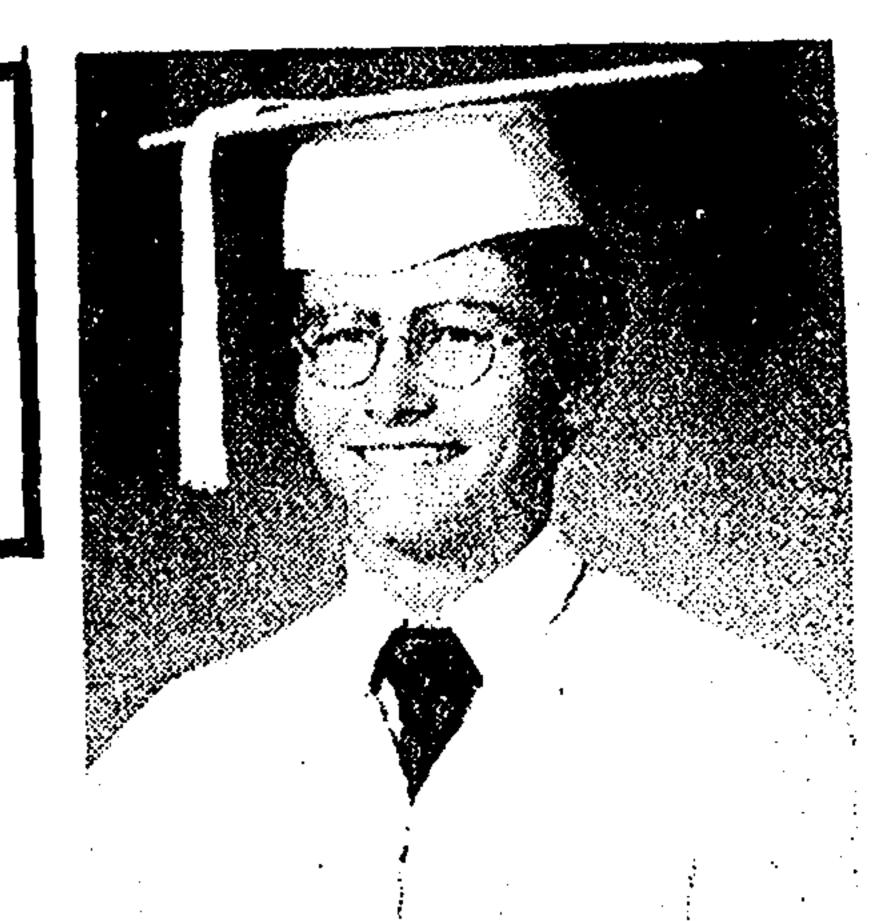

Social Security Manager Q. My husband and I have full custody of our two grandchildren and we receive no support from either parent. Both parents have worked under Social Security. If either of them should die would we get social security on the children?

A. If either parent dies after having worked enough under social security the children under 18 will be entitled to monthly social security checks. Any unmarried children ages 18 to 22 who are full-time students would also be eligible. The person who has custody of a minor child normally receives these checks for the minor. This can be a grandparent or any individual who has custody and is responsible for the child's welfare.

Q. My husband paid in social security for 23 years. As his widow with 2 children, how much monthly benefits are we entitled to receive? A. The number of years that a person works has no bearing on how much social security his survivors are entitled to receive. If a man has sufficient work, as your husband obviously did, then the amount of the benefit is determined by his average monthly wage. This can mean a monthly family benefit for you of as low as $105.60 or as high as over $400 a Home-fried chicken is an American taste treat that has survived the onslaught of TV dinners. True Southern fried chicken to serve four traditionally took 11/2 to 2 pounds of lard. It was cooked slowly on top of the range or in the oven. Chicken is dipped in a seasoned egg mixture and then a flour mixture. This helps seal in juices and also pro-which so many enjoy with mashed potatoes and biscuits. Those concerned with controlling blood cholesterol occasionally may eat their favorite fried chicken when it is done with a cooking oil low in saturated fats.
